(a) whether Moscow has recently imposed visa restrictions on the countries that pose the threat of illegal immigration and India is one of them:

(b) if so. the details thereof and what steps are being taken to solve the problem;

(c) what have been the result of the meetings between the officials of the two countries: and

(d) whether the new laws would affect the Indian businesses in Russia too?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF EXTERNAL AFFAIRS (SHRI DIGVIJAY SINGH) : (a) Yes.

(b) As per new visa procedures, stemming from a new Law for Foreigners adopted by the Russian Federation, before issuing visas to travellers to the Russian Federation, including Indian travellers, the Embassies and the Consulates General of the Russian Federation seek clearance from their Ministry of Interior. They also require the visa applicants to produce an invitation from recognised Russian institutions. The invitation itself has to be processed through the Ministry of Interior and the Ministry of Foreign Affairs in Moscow. These procedural requirements, along with some others, result in delays in issuance of visas and cause difficulties for the Indian travellers. These difficulties have been pointed out to the Russian authorities.

(c) Given the adverse impact of these new visa regulations on development of overall bilateral relations, including trade and economic ties, the Government of India regularly takes up the issue of a more liberalized visa regime for various categories of visitors from India, including trade and business representatives, in bilateral interactions with the Russian Federation. The Government of India recognises that the issue of visas for foreign nationals is the sovereign right of the country concerned.
